

TIMES PICTURE PAGE OF LIVE VIEWS AND NEWS

A Row of Pretty Girls, Last Minute Entries in The Washington Times Typical Girl Contest

Miss Minna Ruppert is one of the contestants for whom the votes have been piling up on the contest editor's desk.

Miss A. M. Harry, 4907 Howard street northwest, is a typical Washington maid, full of pep and as pretty as a pink.

Miss Ida Hagerman, 15 Fifteenth street southeast, has a host of friends who believe her Washington's typical girl.

Miss Celia Fox, 618 H street northwest, is making a determined fight for the Chicago trip and title of Washington's typical girl.

Miss Helen Browne, 1238 Irving street northeast, is one of the contest's most promising entries.

Miss Betty Whaley, 56 New York avenue, is a promising candidate for the title of Washington's most typical girl.

Miss Eugenia Kelly, 1803 Oregon avenue, smiles demurely, for she knows her friends are doing their best to bring her victory.

Miss Lillian Wolf, 2333 Ashmead street, has reason to believe that her host of loyal friends will win her the Chicago trip.

ALL READY FOR AN ocean trip to Bangor, Maine, "Buck" Duffell and "Slim" Van Veen are giving their sailboat a tryout on the Tidal Basin. The boat, built by its owners, is the only craft of its kind on the basin.

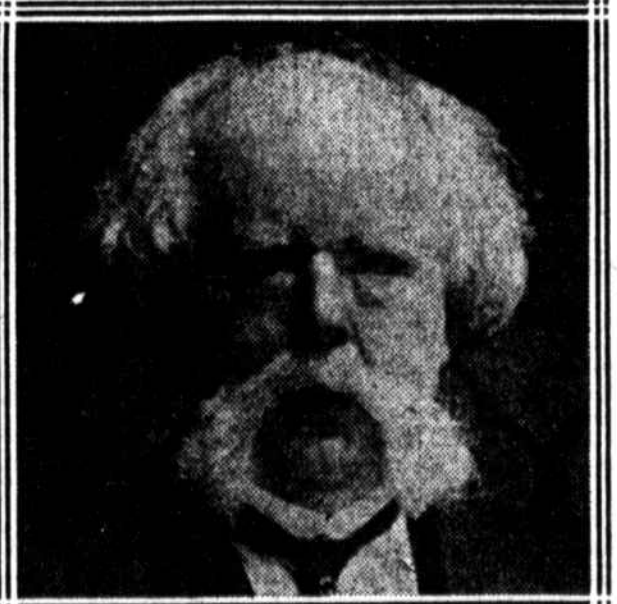

THE FIFTH MEMBER of the American commission to attend the Brazilian Centennial celebration will be Cyrus Curtis, the Philadelphia publisher, whose selection completes the American commission.

WALTER HINTON is the American aviator who will fly with Dr. Pinto Martins in the 800 h.-p. flying craft, Sampaio Correia, to Brazil for the Brazilian Centennial Exposition.

ON THE TRAIL OF FOSSILS and wild flowers of the north Mrs. Charles D. Walcott, wife of the secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, is spending the summer with her husband at Lake Louise, Alberta, Canada. Mrs. Walcott, photographed on her horse, "Buck," is an authority on the wild flowers of Canada.

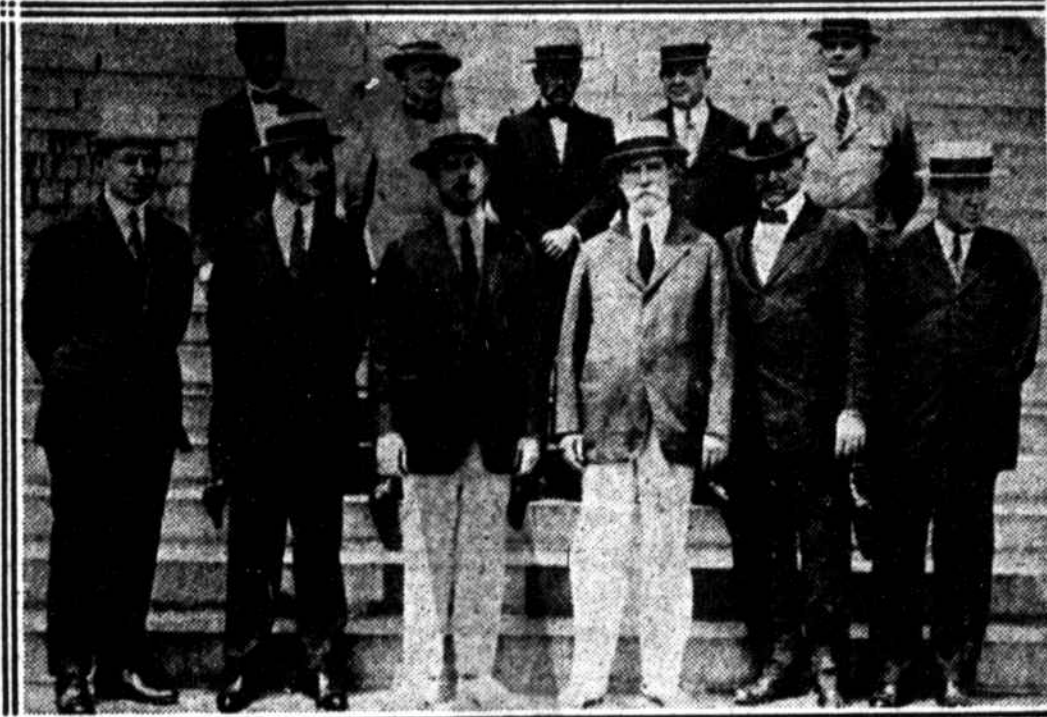

A RECORD of one hundred thousand public speeches, delivered in the course of a career beginning in 1889, is held by Dr. Edward H. Cattell, retiring civil statistician of Philadelphia. Dr. Cattell's audiences, if mobilized and equipped, could conquer the world.

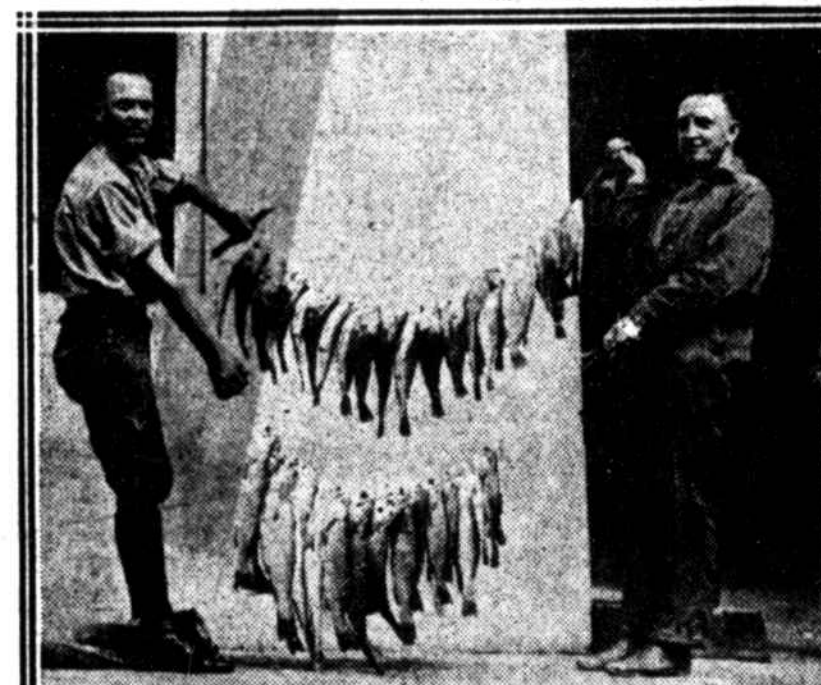

THAT THEY MAY LOOK THEIR PRETTIEST the contestants in today's beauty parade at the Tidal Basin Bathing Beach will be provided by the beach authorities with all necessary cosmetics. A full supply of powder, rouge and lip sticks will be placed at their disposal. Miss Edith Hammell and Miss Catherine Morrow are photographed giving the feminine treasures a tryout before the contest.

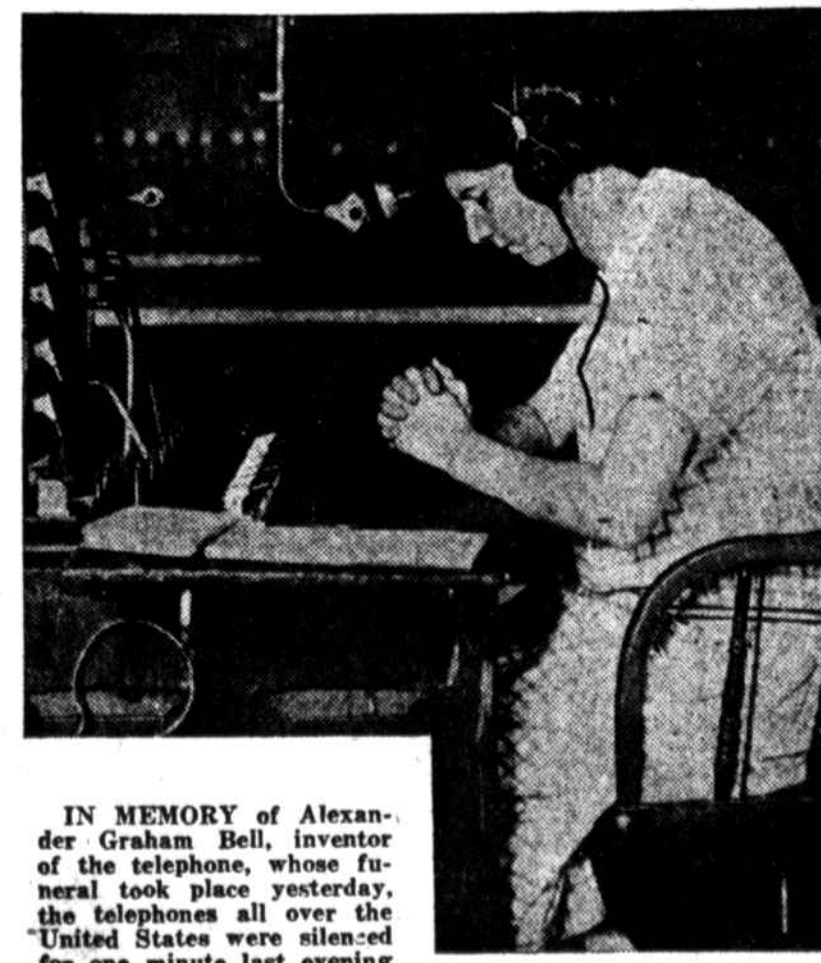

THE CUNNING YOUNGSTERS of the Commissioner of the Philippines and Mme. Jaime de Veyra are clever little swimmers and spend hours each torrid summer day in the water. They are Josephine, Manuel, Jesse and Mary.

GATHERED FROM THE FOUR CORNERS of the earth American consul generals at large are meeting in conference with Wilbur Carr, director of the consular service and Secretary of State Hughes. They are, front row, Roger C. Tredwell, Ralph J. Totten, Director Carr, Secretary Hughes, Charles E. Eberhardt, Nathaniel B. Stewart. Back row, Edward J. Norton, Nelson T. Johnson, William Dawson, Arthur Garrels, Robert Frazer.

THERE ARE AS GOOD FISH in the sea as ever have been caught, but I. A. Lehman and M. L. Johnson, of Washington, are satisfied with the results of a day's sport at Herring Bay, Md. They brought back a string of 125 hardheads and twenty-eight trout.

IN MEMORY of Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, whose funeral took place yesterday, the telephones all over the United States were silenced for one minute last evening at 6:25 o'clock.

See the News of the World AT ALL LEADING THEATERS SHOWING INTERNATIONAL NEWS Released by Universal Film Exchanges